* To ensure that an old clerk's personnel file (including Contract of Employment) is available for a year-end audit no matter when he / she left. However, from an employer viewpoint a "personnel record" cannot be deleted lock, stock and barrel and it would be worthwhile following the Information Commissioners Office:

An employer should review the personal data it holds about an individual when that individual leaves the organisation's employment. It will need to retain enough data to enable the organisation to deal with, say, providing references or information about the individual's pension arrangements. However, personal data that is unlikely to be needed again should be removed from the organisation's records – such as the individual's emergency contact details, previous addresses, or death-in-service beneficiary details.
